LYNCHING A GROWING EVIL

Mob Violence Formally Condemned by Citizens of a Florida County.

White and Black Meet Together and Denounce the Murder of a Young Negro Preacher.

(By Associated Press.)
Lake City, Fla., July 13.—The citizens of this city and vicinity held an indignation meeting last night over the lynching of Robert Bennett, a young negro preacher, who was taken from his pulpit on the fourth of July by a mob and hanged. The meeting was well attended by both races. The following resolutions were adopted: "Whereas on the fourth of July, unknown parties from Suwanee county invaded our borders and took from the pulpit Robert E. Bennett, a well-known citizen of our county, and without authority hanged and shot him to death; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, citizens of Columbia county, do give public expression of condemnation to so unlawful an act and demand the name as an unwarranted violation of the law; that we have confidence in our courts and citizens to enforce law in all such matters, and to bring to speedy trial and punishment any offenders against the law and the rights of our citizens; and we now call upon the governor of the State and all his officers to use their best endeavors to bring out the growing evil in our midst.

"We believe that the punishment provided by law, when visited upon offenders of women, would have a better effect than lynching."

This is perhaps the first time in the history of this State that blacks and whites met together for such a purpose.

NO INJURY TO THE DECKS.

Successful Experiment With the Amphibious Big Gun.

The double-barreled monitor Amphibious has returned to Hampton Roads after a trial of her big gun at sea.

She was sent out with instructions to fire the ten-inch gun directly across her decks with full service charges, the purpose being to settle a doubt as to whether this could be done safely and without injury to the decks from the blast of the gun.

A telegram received at the Navy Department from the commander of the vessel yesterday contained the gratifying information that the gun had been fired with satisfactory results, and that there is no longer any doubt as to the efficiency of the battery as now placed.

Echo of the Knox Fire.

Another echo of the Knox fire of a year ago was heard yesterday when A. Crane, Crook brought a suit at law against the storage company for the recovery of damages to goods lost in the fire. The destroyed goods were all household effects, valued by the plaintiff at $17,020.

What are the wild ways saying? Why, it is no use to go to the seashore when there is no place like home and that of the shore. A in cart and table d'hôte dinner of salt water delicacies. My life! Don't mention, sweet catnip, brandy tomatoes, little brook daisies, soft shell crabs, all in it.

LEVELLED BY THE STORM

New Jersey Village Annihilated and Three Persons Killed.

SOME SEVENTY INJURED

Twenty-Five Houses Lifted Up Into the Air and Then Dashed to the Ground a Mass of Ruins—Depot Buildings Still Two Hundred Feet Along the Track.

(By United Press.)

J., July 13.—A tornado swept over this place at 3:30 this afternoon, and besides leveling twenty-five families' houses, killed three persons outright, namely: Conard Friedman, proprietor of the Cherry Hill hotel; a Hungarian named Anton, in the employ of August Mund; and the eight-months-old son of William Ahren.

Edgar Cinnick, while attempting to release his horses from a barn, was caught in the ruins and his head badly crushed.

DEPT. HEADS AWAY.

The depot of the New Jersey and New York Railroad was picked up and carried up the tracks nearly 200 feet and then fell on the opposite side of the track.

Agent Van Welschen claims he went along with a part of the depot and was found under a freight car.

A large beam went sliding through the air and went through the roof of the depot building, which was knocked two feet off its foundation.

Conard Friedman was in the act of closing the upstairs shutters, when the wind blew him out of the window and he landed on his head on the bay sledge, death being instantaneous.

Mrs. Ahren's baby was found in the ruins when her home and that of a neighbor was lifted into the air together and came down in a confused mass.

The injured may recover, though Chinick's condition is critical. Had stones fell at Hackensack, a mile south of here, but the wind storm was not felt.

THROUGH SEVERAL STATES.

New York City, Brooklyn and Sections of Connecticut Storm-Swept.

(By United Press.)

New York, July 13.—Shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon the northern portion of this city was visited by an extremely heavy and devastating storm of rain, hail and wind.

The storm clouds darkened the upper part of the city for a quarter of an hour before the rain began to fall and in the midst of what appeared to be a premature twilight, big drops of rain fell, followed by hail stones as large as hickory nuts.

So far as known there was no loss of life or severe bodily injuries. The breakage of windows and destruction of valuable vegetation in gardens and conservatories was considerable.

It was reported that two row boats were capsized in the Upper Harlem, and the occupants safely reached the shore.

In the vicinity of 126th street and Lenox avenue hundreds of sparrows' bodies were lying on the sidewalk and roadway after the violence of the storm had subsided.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 13.—At 4:15 o'clock this afternoon East New York was visited by a destructive wind storm. Several large trees in the Cypress Hills Cemetery were uprooted.

At Wood Haven, L. I., it is reported that more than thirty persons were blown down. One woman was killed and a number injured.

Hartford, Conn., July 13.—A destructive hail storm, accompanied by wind, swept through the tobacco sections about here this afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock, extending over a tract about twelve miles wide.

Windsor Locks, Suffield, East Hartford, Glastonbury, Manchester and Wethersfield were the towns that suffered worst. In Suffield the tobacco crop is riddled and practically ruined.

At Woods Station, just north of Windsor Locks, Harvey Fuller, who had sought refuge in a shed, was struck by lightning and severely injured.

Little Girl's Assaults Arrested.

James Brass and James Lee, who live in the "Blooded" district of southwest Washington, were arrested yesterday for felonious assault upon Maud Thomas, fourteen years old. They were locked up at station No. 4. The crime was committed about a month ago. The two men arrested yesterday, with Charles Simms and Robert Pendleton, were indicted, and Simms and Pendleton were convicted last month.

Judge Cole, however, was not satisfied that the men were guilty of so heinous a crime as they were charged with. Their story was that Brass and Lee were really the guilty men, and accordingly they were released under suspension of sentence. Bench warrants were issued for Brass and Lee and were served yesterday.

Nicaragua Canal Model Exhibit.

Atlanta, Ga., July 13.—Space in the Transportation Building of the Cotton States and International Exposition was awarded today for the model of the Nicaragua Canal, which was exhibited in Paris. ### RESULT OF THE GOLD CURE

What Hoke Smith Was Before He Indulged in It.

The Intoxication of His Political Ambition Ere He Became One of President Cleveland's Cabinet.

Atlanta, Ga., July 13.—The Constitution will publish to-morrow morning a letter written by Hon. Hoke Smith, Secretary of the Interior, to Hon. W. L. Peak, on the 15th of September, 1890. It was a reply to a speech delivered by Col. Peak, then a leader of the State Alliance, at Conyers, in which the latter made the statement that in a conference with Mr. Smith, who was assisting in the management of Gen. Gordon's senatorial campaign, that Gen. Gordon had pledged that he would accept an agreement to certain conditions named by the Alliance.

In the letter to Col. Peak, Mr. Smith corrected the impression that Gen. Gordon had unqualifiedly approved the treasury plan advocated by the Alliance. He then relates his view on the conference and adds:

"I mentioned a number of measures of proposed reform around which all might gather and out of them obtain the very best plan for the relief of the people that it was possible to pass.

"1. Currency, with non-perishable agricultural products as a basis, the issue to be limited to only a part of the crop, but not to be called in at the end of twelve months; on the contrary, to remain in circulation until a second crop is harvested and until a portion of the second crop may be substituted for the first, thereby making it possible to keep the money in constant circulation and to prevent a yearly forced contraction.

"2. The free coinage of silver.

"3. The issue of Treasury notes by which the government bonds might be redeemed, and instead of the interest-bearing bonds, a legal tender currency substituted."

The fourth and fifth plans proposed favored a gradual reduction of the interest on the tariff, and Mr. Smith concluded:

"My only purpose was in a spirit of harmony to aid Democratic nominees and preserve Democratic organization, and pass, by a united effort, measures of practical benefit to the people."

TROLLEY CARS COLLIDED.

In Consequence One Person Was Killed and Two Fatally Hurt.

(By United Press.)

Several others sustained less serious injuries. The motor car and trolley, loaded with pupils and teachers of the Scarborough Baptist Mission on their way east to a picnic at Victoria Park, collided with a west bound car, which, fortunately, contained no passengers.

The cars, which were running at a speed of ten miles an hour, came together on a curve.

HER ACQUITTAL PROBABLE.

Verdict in the Farrall Case Expected To-morrow or Tuesday.

(By United Press.)

La Plata, Md., July 13.—Mrs. Belle Farrall shot her husband to-day for the first time since her trial for the murder of her husband began, almost a fortnight ago. It was when one of her counsel was speaking of what termed "the happy Farrall home."

The court room was uncomfortably crowded when the day's session began this morning. It was then thought that the case would go to the jury before night, but ex-Congressman Mudd did not conclude his argument until afternoon and the court then adjourned until Monday, leaving unheeded the arguments of Col. Wilmer, for the defense, and Mr. Mitchell, for the prosecution.

The consensus of opinions expressed by those best able to pass judgment on the case is favorable to the handsome defendant, and a verdict of acquittal is confidently expected Monday night or Tuesday.

AN ASSISTANT PROPOSED.

He Will Look After the Finances of The Library.

It is not unlikely that the investigation into the accounts of Librarian Spofford will result in a resignation of the Congressional library force by which there will be a government officer, independent of the librarian, appointed to look after the financial affairs of the library, leaving Mr. Spofford free to attend to the library work proper.

Mr. Spofford will recommend to Congress the establishment of a bureau for the registering of copyrights.

Smith and others, the heirs of the late Mary Colman, asking for the sale of the estate of the deceased and the application of the proceeds to the payment of a creditor's bill. ### WANT TO TAKE HIS LIFE

Armed Citizens Pursuing an Unknown Villain Near Anacostia.

LYNCHING BEE MAY RESULT

Mrs. Lucy Hall, a Respectable Woman Attacked and Fearfully Beaten by a Strange Negro—Her Cries Caused Him to Fly With Constables and Citizens in Pursuit.

Citizens who live along the Wheeler road, just over the District line, beyond Anacostia, are scouring the woods in Prince George's county for an unknown negro and if they find him it is more than likely his lifeless body will dangle from a tree in the woods.

His offense was cruel and horrible, and his victim, Mrs. Lucy Hall, now lies at her home in a precarious condition, with two deep gashes on the right side of her head, her right wrist badly bruised, her breast a mass of contusions, and suffering internally from injuries inflicted with brute violence upon her.

Mrs. Hall is the wife of Heman Hall, and is a much respected colored woman.

Cries of murder, mingled with shrieks, were heard about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, proceeding from her house on the Wheeler road and it was not long before a crowd of white and colored people assembled to learn the cause.

SHE RECOVERED CONSCIOUSNESS.

When they arrived she was unconscious, but on reviving told her story to Mrs. Alex Thompson, who was among the first.

Meantime Joseph Beach, colored, a brother of Mrs. Hall, saw an unknown colored man disappear around the side of the house with a gun on his shoulder. He started in pursuit, but the pursued man quickly eluded Beach and was soon lost in the woods. Mrs. Hall and soon after her husband left and while she was upstairs she heard a noise downstairs.

An investigation revealed the presence in the yard of a strange negro, his face covered with large bumps, wearing a badly worn brown dress, a black coat with tattered sleeve, pantaloons frayed at the bottom, and discolored shoes on scuffed feet. He carried on his shoulder a single-barreled shotgun.

The man asked for a drink of water and this being given he began to talk about the weather. As he showed no signs of taking leave Mrs. Hall entered the house, and half a minute later was confronted by the evil countenance of the villain who made a menacing proposal which was rejected.

STUCK HER WITH A GUN.

Raising the butt end of the gun he rained blows upon the woman's head and body.

Uttering cries of murder Mrs. Hall sank to the floor. Before the man succeeded in his purpose she arrived and he took flight. The woman's injuries were attended to, and meanwhile a posse began scouring the woods. Constable Arthur Suit arrived an hour later, and every effort was made to locate the criminal. The traces of his track were freely made, and every one was of the opinion that when caught he should be strung up to a tree. Constable Suit provided several men with revolvers, and in the afternoon the pursuit was renewed, the party being reinforced by Constable Jim Grimes. Several of the party carried pieces of rope, and the next morning the man was notified, and Policeman Allen, after an investigation, concluded the man had not arrived in the vicinity of the town.

RIOT PRISONERS CLEARED.

Judge Emmons Thought There Was Too Much Conflicting Evidence.

(By Associated Press.)

Boston, Mass., July 13.—The hearing in the case of John Ross and Harold G. Brown charged with shooting John W. Willis, in the East Boston riot on Independence Day, at the East Boston district court terminated at 4:45 this afternoon in the discharge of both prisoners.

Judge Emmons declared that the conflicting nature of the evidence would not warrant the court in holding them for trial.

The release of the prisoners was hailed with delight by the large number of the patriotic onlookers who had gathered constantly in attendance since the hearing began on Friday. Brown and Ross were congratulated by hundreds after court adjourned.

MURDER AMONG MINERS.

He and Lawless Address a Peaceful Meeting at Mill Creek.

(By United Press.)

Bluefield, W. Va., July 13.—The miners held the largest and most enthusiastic meeting to-day at Mill Creek, W. Va., since the strike began.

Gov. McKelvey arrived on the field late last night in a special car and had a conference with Col. Carr, who has been sent here by him to watch the situation.

The United States marshal report the entire field peaceful. The loading of coal has been going to-day.

Wilkinson Held for Murder.

Asheville, N. C., July 13.—The coroner's inquest over the body of Mrs. Jennings, killed from ambush near Murphy, resulted in the holding of Will Wilkinson, who was with the woman when she was shot, and R. L. Jennings, her husband. Habeas corpus proceedings will likely be instituted in behalf of Wilkinson next week.
